The enforcement 1st report references Choice point research (more than 1 search-one was done on 12/16/2002 but other research was also aluded to) as the source of the corporate history of Gulfco, Inc to Chromalloy American Corporation (as well as parent Sequa). Do we have that in SDMS?

Chromalloy is a subsidiary of Sequa Corporation. In their 104 e response they say:

"On December 23, 1986, Chromalloy American Corporation merged with and into CRO Acquisition Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sun Chemical Corporation, and CRO Acquisition Corporation then changed its name to Chromalloy American Corporation. Sun Chemical Corporation subsequently changed its name to Sequa Corporation. However, Sequa Corporation and Chromalloy American Corporation are separate and distinct entities; for purposes of this matter, Chromalloy American Corporation is the only party in interest."
